PROGRAM TITLE: NEWS 3 @ 6 pm
TYPE: News
DATE OF BROADCAST: 2-16-10
DESCRIPTION: A convicted drunk driver costs us taxpayers about 135 dollars a day to jail. That adds up to 50 thousand dollars a year. We found a program that tries to keep people from becoming a tax burden in jail by keeping them at home, and making sure they stay sober, and pay their way. It's year long program which includes intensive outpatient counseling three times a week, house arrest for 90 days, and two 12 step meetings a week.

TYPE: News
DATE OF BROADCAST: 3-10-10
DESCRIPTION: Metro is by far the largest law enforcement agency in Southern Nevada, but working with other agencies is the key to catching crooks. At a recent meeting metro shared information about a recent burglary in the Clark County School Police and park police. One of the park police had just arrested a guy that looked a lot like the burglar. Cooperation like that is one reason property crimes are down 27 percent so far this year in the area. Violent crimes are down 43 per cent.
